

WHAT IS GDPR?

GDPR is the REGULATION (EU) 2016/679 OF THE EUROPEAN PARLIAMENT AND OF THE COUNCIL of 27 April 2016 on the protection of natural persons with regard to the processing of personal data and on the free movement of such data, and repealing Directive 95/46/EC (General Data Protection Regulation).

BASIC DEFINITIONS

Controller - natural or legal person, public authority, agency or other body which, alone or jointly with others, determines the purposes and means of the processing of personal data;

Data Subject – natural person identifiable on the basis of specific personal data;

Personal Data – information relating to a natural person, such as: name, identification number, location data, an online identifier or to one or more factors specific to the physical, genetic, mental, economic, cultural or social identity of that natural person;

Personal Data Processing - means any operation or set of operations which is performed on personal data or on sets of personal data, whether or not by automated means, such as collection, recording, organisation, structuring, storage, adaptation or alteration, retrieval, consultation, use, disclosure by transmission, dissemination or otherwise making available, alignment or combination, restriction, erasure or destruction;

Processor - a natural or legal person, public authority, agency or other body which processes personal data on behalf of the controller;

LAWFULNESS OF PROCESSING.

Processing shall be lawful only if and to the extent that at least one of the following applies::

- consent of the data subject
- protection of the vital interests of the data subject
- performance of a task in the data subject's interest
- legitimate interest
- compliance with a legal obligation
- steps necessary for the conclusion or performance of a contract.

RIGHTS CONNECTED WITH DATA PROCESSING.

Data subjects are entitled to the following rights:

1. right to be informed about the data processing
2. right to obtain a copy of their data
3. right to rectify
4. right to remove data (if their processing is no longer necessary for the performance of any task for which they were collected)

5. right to limit processing
6. right to transfer data
7. right to object to data processing for marketing purposes
8. right to object to other purposes of processing
9. right to remove consent
10. right to lodge a complaint.
